benjaminsmedia

Picture books and audio books for kids since the very old days

benjaminsmedia

benjamins media has been creating audio books for a very very long time.

Our specialties : stylized illustrations, funny – and meaning! – stories, high quality books printed on offset paper. As for the audio, no sound effects but soundscapes (the sound makes sense). We work with talented and renowned authors such as Alan Mets, Aurélie Guillerey, Marie Nimier, Delphine Chedru, Ramona Badescu, Édouard Manceau, Michaël Escoffier...

Whatever his age, the child finds a size of book that fits perfectly to him: «S» if he's a toddler, «M» if he's less than 6 years and «L» if he can read. He wants a braille book with large characters? We have! An eBook version? We have! A version in sign language? We also have!

benjamins media , it's 2 editors. Rudy, the director, Ludovic, the artist of benjamins media. We have very different backgrounds: cartoon for Ludovic and radio for Rudy, but the same goal: edit children's literature of high quality for all children.

Rudy, editor.

One day, Mom brought in a big box. At the bottom, she and Dad put a flowery blanket, and on top, there was a little chubby baby. Me. My house was beautiful! The box said «Zidigli, Muslin of Paris». At first, I laid on my back. I chattered, I pedalled, and my hands were already drawing marvellous things on the horizon. But one day, I rolled around and found myself stuck on the side of the box...

After Flic Flac, Fred Éclair returns with a new story that is soft, intimate and written in the first person on these highlights - walking around after a nap or playing with the cardboard packaging - which punctuate the life of the child.

A clarinet sets off into the world, following her grandmother's advice. Along the way, she meets some nice percussion instruments and a ukulele who becomes her friend. But it's not the same story with the accordion. It's... a love story. A beautiful book to evoke musical composition with children from a very young age!

Ever since he was a child, there is one thing that Édouard Manceau loves above all else: telling stories. Whether to children during his travels, his neighbours or... in books! He won the Prix Libbylit in 2014, the Prix Sorcières in 2015 and the CLEL Award in the USA in 2016. Ever after a hundred or so books, he continues to take great pleasure in playing with pictures and words to bring new stories to life.

A child wakes up. Naptime is over. Quick, quick, quick! He gobbles down his afternoon snack, puts on his wellington boots and raincoat, places his favourite soft toy in his backpack, and steps outside with his daddy. Hello, hello little walk! What an inexhaustible source of wonder for a child! And how touching for the parent accompanying his child to see his endless curiosity at play! Going for a walk is a near ritualistic outing for a parent and child, a moment for the two to bond as the child learns all about their surroundings. A beautiful story book, at a child's level, that both adults and little ones can relate to and enjoy.

It's the little bug coming up, and up and up... What's on your fingers?
You would not have traces of markers, tell me? Indeed! How did you see that?

It's the little bug coming up, and up and up... What's in your hand? Oh yes, some bread.

It's the little bug coming up and up and up... What's on your forearm?
The end of your pajamas?

The little bug will help the child
to know his body: fingers, wrist,
arm, neck... if he is not interrupted by cuddles and kisses! A very musical story to read and to mime.

A SMALL BOOK / UN PETIT BOUQUIN

Age: 18 months+

It is the story of a little rabbit, a blue shirt, a gray dungarees and a small orange bag, who goes on a journey. First of all, he is leaving with—tweet tweet—two small birds before taking—choo choo—the train, with—pin pin pin—two other friends... At the end of this joyous friendly farandole, the little rabbit finds himself again alone to read a little boo, a little booboo, a little book!

This is an astute book for toddlers. It works by clear and efficient accumulation. The reader, thanks to the magic of onomatopoeias has to guess the image that will follow. A book that takes the little ones for big ones!

HUGS / CÂLINS

Age: 18 months+

In Winter, hugs help us keep cosy. They make us feel better until the weather gets warmer. In spring, hugs are fleeting and hang by a thread. Things are much more light-hearted under the starry summer sky – until autumn, when the leaves drop from the trees. It is time to leave the nest and start a new life. Hugs are useful all year long! This poetic text in this beautiful book is brought to life through Antoine Guilloppé's illustrations.

Korean (world)

Age: 18 months+

All Round is a little black circle. He lives in a grey country where there's always noise. All round is bored: "Elsewhere, he thinks, it must be more beautiful!" He decides to take a tour around the world. The world is a great, blue ball. Anyway, that's what he's been told... So he leaves, wanting to find out! This is an excellent story for young children. It is poetic, realistic, charming and rhythmical. Children embark on a thrilling journey with a small black circle and discover a planet called the Big Blue, which is actually made up of all kinds of colours. The book uses all the senses, associating a colour – yellow, for example – with a feeling – warmth – and a sound on the CD. This magnificent album works with and without the CD.

POMPOMS / POMPONS

Age: 18 months+

Two little birds discover a white pompom. When moving, the pompom makes a sound - the sound of a harmonium! And if you put a white pompom next to another, you can draw figures: a line, a stair, a river. And yes: it creates a melody. Each pompom has a color and represents an instrument: a jew's harp, a sitar, a tabla... And the song appears at the end, when the tiger arrives.

Internationally acclaimed author Edouard Manceau invites us to discover how music scores work, as well as the instruments and songs from India. A wonderful trip into music and illustrations.

This book cannot be published without the CD.

Under my Memories, I Sleep
There's almost my whole life in the bottom of the attic trunk. A lot of memories, not very well arranged. Sometimes I dive in, head first! I took out of the trunk my first day at school, the smell of mum saying «See you tonight», the laughter at nap time. I took out of the trunk the carnival parade, with sharp teeth, a long tail and a velvet tongue...

Daddy, seeing this mess, picked it all up and started sorting, cutting and sewing...

Music: Rock

In the Doremi family, when Mum says, «let's play some music», Sidonie jumps behind the piano and Fado begins to sing. But Do, the youngest, has no interest in joining in.

“Your turn, Do!”

“My name's not Do, it's No! Which means NO! No, I don't like classical music! I want to play the electric guitar!” His family doesn't understand, so Do, ahem No, sets off to find “real musicians”.

A story by Alan Mets that explores strong themes: differences, appearances, tolerance and a search for harmony.

Christos Ortiz, known and published under the name Christos, is a children's book author. He was a musician in various bands (Celtic, world music, prog rock...) and lyricist for more than seventeen years. He has worked with various publishers on four picture books, ten novels and two stories for the press.

Alan Mets studied philosophy and film before becoming a children's book author and illustrator. He has a rich and varied body of work.

Music: intersellar melody.

When Alan first started school, everyone thought he was a bit weird. Alan didn't know how to draw stick people properly, couldn't write his name and talked with words that didn't exist. At playtime, Alan didn't play tag, or hide-and-seek, and he wasn't very good at football. He didn't know how to do anything! And then, winter came around. It snowed a lot, and everyone slipped, fell over, sank into the powdery snow, and was stuck indoors. Everyone except Alan, who had a secret... A beautiful and funny story book, showing children how differences can lead to harmony.

Music: Alphabetical fantasy...

"The letter B goes "B' b' b' b'" like the bubbles in a bottle when you dunk it in the bath."

The Sound of Letters is no ordinary alphabet book. This particularly ingenious book combines three things: a letter, the sound of that letter, and an onomatopoeia! The onomatopoeias make the text easy to translate into most languages. A clever book, brought to life by Julien Billaudeau's wonderful illustrations.

Once upon a time there was a little black pig named Edgar. A black pig is quite rare... and Edgar lived alone, apart, as the rare being he was. Living alone is not always funny. One day of blues, Edgar packs his bags and tries to find other pigs to play and laugh with. He comes face to face with a flock of pink pigs...

As usual with Alan Metz, the story is both funny and deep. The author is the defender of a different being - apart, kind, open-minded. With a calculated economy of words and an even more stylized drawing the author invites children to be themselves to overturn prejudices.

Lisette and Pierrot are a couple without any children. Whilst out walking one day they find a little abandoned Wild Boar piglet. So they adopt her and name her Muriel. They teach Muriel everything she needs to know about how to be a grown up: How to brush her teeth morning and night, how to use a knife to eat, to say 'hello' and 'thank you' and 'good bye' and even how to flush the toilet. But Muriel was very curious and couldn't stop asking thousands of difficult questions, wanting to know everything about the world around her, and Pierrot and Lisette didn't know how to answer any of them. So, one day, they decided to send her to school...

“Do you know what my parents do when I interrupt them? They cover me in invisible paint. It's horrible, people keep walking into me!” Four children – two boys and two girls – discuss punishments while sitting under a table: the punishments their parents give them when they're naughty, and the punishments they'd like to give their parents sometimes. After all, parents can be as bad as children! This humorous text discusses punishments and children's imagination.
